

PHYSICAL ACTIVITY READINESS QUESTIONNAIRE

Regular physical activity is fun and healthy, and more people are becoming more active every day. Being more active is very safe for most people. However some people should check with their doctor before becoming much more physically active. If you are planning to become much more physically active than you are now, start by answering the eight questions in the box below. If you are between the ages of 15 and 69, the questionnaire will tell you if you should check with your doctor before you start. If you are over 69 year of age, and you are used to being very active, check with your doctor

1. Are you a man over the age of 45 or women over the age of 55?
2. Has your doctor ever said that you have a heart condition and that you should only do physical activity recommended by a doctor?
3. Do you feel pain in your chest when you do physical activity?
4. In the past month have you had a chest pain when you were not doing anything / or physical activity?
5. Do you lose your balance because of dizziness or have you ever lost consciousness?
6. Do you have a bone or joint problem that could be made worse by a change in your physical activity?
7. Is your doctor currently prescribing drugs for blood pressure?
8. Do you know any other reason why you should not do physical work?

If you answered YES to one or more question, talk with your doctor by phone or in person BEFORE you start becoming much more physically active or before you have a fitness appraisal. Tell your doctor about this questionnaire and which question you answered YES. You may be able to do any activity you want – as long as you start slowly and build up gradually, or, you may need to restrict your activities to those that are safe for you. Talk with your doctor about the kinds of activities you wish to participate in and follow his/her advice.

PHYSICAL ACTIVITY READINESS QUESTIONNAIRE

If you answered NO honestly to all question, you can be reasonably sure that you can:

- . Start becoming much more physically active. Begin slowly and build up gradually. This is the safest and easiest way to go
- . Take part in a fitness appraisal. This is an excellent way to determine your basic fitness so that you can plan the best way for you to live actively

Even if you answered no to all the questions you should delay becoming much more active if you are not feeling well.

Please note: If your health changes you must notify your trainer.

I have read and understood this questionnaire and have answered truly to the questions asked.

If you answered YES to one or more questions, talk with your doctor by phone or in person BEFORE you start becoming much more physically active or BEFORE you have a fitness appraisal. Tell your doctor about the PAR-Q and which questions you answered YES. You may be able to do any activity you want - as long as you start slowly and build up gradually. Or, you may need to restrict your activities to those that are safe for you. Talk with your doctor about the kinds of activities you wish to participate in and follow his/her advice.

If you answered NO honestly to all questions, you can be reasonably sure that you can:

- Start becoming much more physically active - begin slowly and build up gradually. This is the safest and easiest way to go.
- Take part in a fitness appraisal - this is an excellent way to determine your basic fitness so that you can plan the best way for you to live actively.

Even if you answered NO to all questions, you should delay becoming much more active:

- If you are not feeling well because of a temporary illness such as a cold or a fever - wait until you feel better.
- If you are or may be pregnant - talk to your doctor before you start becoming more active.

Please note: If your health changes so that you then answer YES to any of the above questions, tell your fitness or health professional. Ask whether you should change your physical activity plan.

I have read understood and completed this questionnaire. Any questions I had were answered to my full satisfaction
